Impeachment of Master Cross

For three years, family court litigants David Johnson and Michael Puia have waged a public war against Marital Master Philip Cross through the legislature.

Despite the legislature's vote against the Bill of Address seeking to remove Master Cross from the bench, Rep Itse has sponsored a house resolution seeking to direct the the house judiciary committee "to investigate whether grounds exist to impeach marital master Phillip Cross and/or any justice of the New Hampshire superior court."

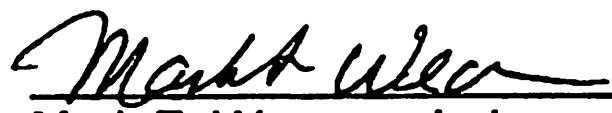

Such a maneuver is a dangerous, slippery slope for the legislature. In its 235 year history, the State of New Hampshire has impeached two judges. Impeachment is reserved for the most serious of offenses, defined by the Constitution as "bribery, corruption, malpractice or maladministration." The nature of the allegations enumerated in the resolution cannot on its face be characterized as one of these four acts.

Instead, the allegations evidence unhappy litigants who do not understand the court system. Therein is the slippery slope. If every litigant who received an adverse decision were able to bring their grievance to the legislature and initiate impeachment proceedings, the State of New Hampshire would have no judges left. Master Cross alone heard over 6,000 cases last year. Add in the 90 plus judges and masters across the state, and the legislature would have their hands full.

The hearing before the Resolution Committee on this matter will occur at the Legislative Office Building, 30 North State Street, Concord, on Tuesday, the 22nd, @ 3:30pm.

In addition, until further Order of the Court, this Court hereby orders that should the plaintiff file any additional ex parte requests for protection without the signature of her counsel, then those requests shall in the first instance be provided to Judge Moore for consideration as the Judge most familiar with the various proceedings affecting these parties. Should Judge Moore not be available, then such matters shall be forwarded to the undersigned Judge for consideration. If this Judge is not available, then the Clerk may forward said requests to another Judge for consideration, together with a copy of this Order. Moreover, to ensure compliance with this Order, the plaintiff is hereby Ordered to attach a copy of this Order to any new ex parte domestic violence petitions regarding the defendant filed without the signature of counsel.

Video & Audio Analysis for Rochelle Coburn

By Victor Weisenbloom 19 November 2013

Material Provided – CD video (with audio) in Police Lobby

- CD audio for 911 call

Analysis of Police Lobby CD – For the most part, the video & audio quality was fair to good. However, the recording had many cuts that varied in duration for approximately 15 to 60 seconds in duration according to the recorded time track. During these cuts, both video and audio content were not detectable.

There were also four audio blanks in the video of approximately 27 to 51 seconds in duration. Just prior to the audio blanks, you can see activity that could be due to an intervention for the purposes of blanking. Two audio blanks were on the 3-12 recording and two on the 3-25 recording. Note that, the segments on the 3-12 video that were blanked are repeats.

- 1) First audio gap is on 3-12 video at 5:43:10 (5:12 on CD) to 5:43:48 (5:50 on CD) for 38 sec.
- 2) Second audio gap is on 3-12 video at 5:43:10 (7:48 on CD) to 5:43:48 (8:26 on CD) for 38 sec.
- 3) Third audio gap is on 3-25 video at 2:36:01 to 2:36:52 for 51 sec.
- 4) Fourth audio gap is on 3-25 video at 2:43:44 to 2:44:11 for 27 sec.

The blanked voice during these gaps was not detectable. In general, surveillance systems provide continuous recordings without cuts and blanks. For security purposes, the recordings need to be continuous to preserve all information for subsequent review as required. However, the Coburn recording is not continuous.

Analyses of 911 Audio CD – The quality was good. The 27:28.24 recording was continuous without cuts or breaks. There are two 911 segments. The first of Mr. Coburn from 0:00 to approximately 4:15.5 and the second of Rochelle starting at 4:15.5 to 27:28.24 (end). From 6:25 to 7:07 you can hear the conversation of Rochelle, her daughter and the police dispatcher.

During the 6:25 to 7:07 segment, upon answering a question from Rochelle, her daughter seems to say that her father choked her. You can clearly hear the daughter say “choking”. Although the conversation is about what the father did, you cannot hear her say that the father choked her. Within this segment, a recording of a continuous 30.65 sec. long conversation of only Rochelle and her daughter repeated several times is provided, on CD, for your own review. The rest of the CD has several conversations some of which relate to Rochelle repeating what her daughter said about her father and Rochelle’s injuries.

Another CD that is specific to Rochelle’s daughter that is 5:55 was put together and is also provided for your review, This CD contains the “choking segment” as well as other portions of conversations with the dispatcher and Rochelle about Rochelle’s daughter.

Conclusion and potential follow-up – During, the 911 conversation between Rochelle and her daughter, about what the father did, you can clearly hear the daughter say choking.

The audio gaps and audio/video gaps in the lobby video are curious and could be followed up by your attorney interrogating the police. How was the video copy made causing all of these cuts and blanks? Is a copy of the police original (without cuts and blanks) available? What video and audio information is missing?

Case No. 438-2022-CV-30

In the Matter of Rochelle Pouget v. Kysa Crusco

ORDER ON MOTION FOR RECUSAL

The court met with the plaintiff on the record regarding her stalking petition on July 25, 2022. During the hearing the plaintiff requested on the record that the court be recused from reviewing the stalking petition on grounds that the court had adjudicated another case in which the court issued a ruling adverse to the plaintiff.

Disqualification is appropriate in any proceeding in which the judge's impartiality might reasonably be questioned. See Rule 2.11. To the extent the court issued rulings that may be adverse to the respondent, the court's rulings do not show grounds for recusal. They do not demonstrate bias. The New Hampshire Supreme Court has observed that "[a]dverse rulings against the defendant in the same or in a prior judicial proceeding do not render the judge biased." See State v. Bader, 148 N.H. 265, 270 (2002) (quotation omitted). "[O]pinions formed by the judge on the basis of facts introduced or events occurring in the course of the current proceedings, or of prior proceedings, do not constitute a basis for a bias or partiality motion unless they display a deep-seated favoritism or antagonism that would make fair judgment impossible." See id. (quotation omitted).

There is no evidence of such bias presented in this case. Even if the court entered adverse findings or rulings in an unrelated case, the record does not show that the court is biased against her in this proceeding. In addition to the matter identified by the plaintiff, the court apparently has presided over more than one matters involving this litigant in the past, including hearings in a landlord tenant case and a family court case. The rulings appear to have been mixed and were based on facts and law relevant to those cases. The evidence is not sufficient to show grounds for recusal in her stalking petition.

The court also notes that the defendant is an active member of the NH Bar and a guardian ad litem. From time to time she has appeared and likely is currently appearing in one or more other cases pending before the court. The court does not believe that recusal is warranted on this basis.

The motion is denied.

Case No. 438-2022-CV-30

In the Matter of Rochelle Pouget v. Kysa Crusco

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION CONSIDERED BY THE COURT

Prior to issuing a ruling on the plaintiff's stalking petition, the court met with the plaintiff on the record on July 25, 2022. The following represents a summary of the testimony, which is preserved in its entirety in the court record.

The court inquired regarding the plaintiff's current interactions with the defendant. The plaintiff indicated that she has requested the defendant to answer questions regarding her involvement in the plaintiff's family court matters and to admit actions that the plaintiff believes show wrongdoing, but the defendant has not done so. According to the plaintiff, most recently she sent the defendant an email but the defendant did not respond.

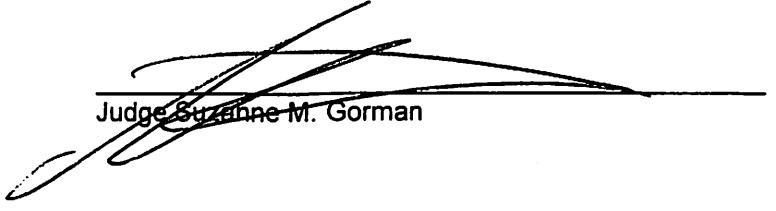

The plaintiff stated that her divorce was in 2015 and her parental rights were removed in 2014. She indicated that she is afraid of the defendant both for herself and for her minor child. She believes that defendant's actions involving her court cases, the police and DCFY show that she is a danger both to the plaintiff and to other family court litigants. The plaintiff stated that she does not have current matters in which the defendant is involved, although she has contacted authorities regarding the defendant and there may be investigations pending.

NH BAR #1847

To Whom it May Concern at the Hillsborough County Registrar's Office and Gail (former employee at Raimo Murphy Law who currently works for Kysa Crusco I believe),

My name is Rochelle Pouget, formerly Rochelle XXXXXX. It has come to my attention and the attention of my attorneys, the AG's office, the Governor's office, my lender, family, general public, etc., that the quit claim deed that I signed shortly after mediation in 2014, (and after my parental rights were temporarily removed by predatory unconstitutional practices), was immediately given back to my ex-husband James Reid Coburn in January 2015 by Patricia Murphy and/or someone at Raimo Murphy Law Firm. Patricia Murphy (now retired) was and still is responsible for ensuring that the quit claim deed I signed is being held in escrow, per our court order.

I am currently living in the home with my daughter and she is a minor. We are surviving on survivor and widower benefits and I'm applying for long term medical disability, due to serious medical issues, brought on by extreme stress I've endured over the years from the nefarious and deplorable actions of those who were supposed to protect my daughter from abuse.

I'm contacting the bar association, the Judicial Conduct Committee, and the Professional Conduct Committee as well as posting this email on Reddit and every single media outlet, until the Quit Claim Deed is back in Escrow where it belongs, so my attorneys can take the appropriate actions, to save our home, now that Mr. Coburn is dead.

Please keep in mind that a 2nd GAL was assigned to my case after GAL/Attorney Kysa Crusco and retired Attorney Trish Murphy provided false information on an affidavit just prior to the removal of my temporary parental rights, while I was a mandated reporter, at work teaching, during a hearing that I was not notified about properly. They knew I was at work. They knew I couldn't answer my cell phone at work, and they knew the number to properly notify me, but they chose to call my cell phone and send me a private email, not an email to my work email address.

BTW, I reported accurate information to DCYF, and it has been verified by the State Police, DCYF, and the CAC, and yet my parental rights were temporarily removed for placing a call to report a 2nd abuse incident that was also verified AFTER my parental rights were removed and my divorce was mediated, where I felt forced to comply with every demand of my now deceased ex-husband, who managed to con family and friends of hundreds of thousand of dollars before and after my divorce. Way to go NBPD! Not one phone call to his family or friends who could verify his long history of financial abuse after I reported financial abuse. Not one and I repeatedly asked them to. Consequently, other innocent women were financially scammed and he even scammed his own brother and adult son in CA out of approximately $40k too. Some great detective work going on there at the NBPD, let me tell you.

Please take the appropriate steps to rectify the quit claim deed issue for XX XXXXXXXX XX, New Boston, NH 03070. I would also like you to investigate how it was possible for the quit claim deed (that was court ordered to be held in escrow and addressed to Attorney Patricia Murphy) to be tampered with. Somehow Patricia's name was crossed out and it was switched to my ex-husband's name. The signature on the deed is Pamela Coughlin and I realize her husband is the Hillsborough County Attorney. Please find out who crossed out Patricia's name and why. Did Pamela and Patricia know each other and contact each other to okay this? Did Pamela contact anyone who authorized this? Wonder what would happen if I were to get ahold of Patricia Murphy's luxury home deeds (I believe she has two homes), cross out her name, and insert mine, would that be allowed at the Hillsborough County Registrar's Office? Or maybe Governor Sununu's deed to his house, would that be ok? OBVIOUSLY NOT, but it's somehow ok with my deed.

This is now affecting our health and well-being as we are being threatened with eviction and foreclosure. I would like you to respond today as time is of the essence. I have been informed our house will go into foreclosure today if I can't get help with this situation and then I will have to resort to Civil Lawsuits on behalf of my daughter and possibly myself. She does have rights in this house and she is being represented by an attorney.

Please feel free to contact my attorney or the one representing my daughter with any other questions, but only in writing and only with the above mentioned people copied because as you know, transparency is essential in this day and age.

P.S. Kysa and Trish, if you see this and have any issues with me calling out your behaviors, please know that everyone copied in this email has been copied on Dr. Taracena's notes, transcripts, emails, etc. and Jim gave my daughter his computer shortly before he passed away, ha ha. Dr. Taracena's notes are in direct conflict with your statements on your sworn affidavit and during the hearing which led to the temporary removal of my parental rights.

Interesting how I had to feel forced into mediation after two years of gathering evidence because of the false statements that the judge chose to believe. After I insisted Kysa step down before mediation, so we could get an objective and unbiased parent coordinator, things quickly turned around and the judge assigned a 2nd GAL/Attorney to my case.

We had a 4 day hearing scheduled for October 2014 and my parental rights were taken away in August, hmmmm. I was going to present a boat load of evidence, but there was no way I was going to allow you to attempt to permanently orchestrate the removal of my parental rights, the way you did with my temporary parental rights.

I have spent a significant amount of time and energy working on this case and while I understand this might not be criminal in nature, it most certainly is a Civil issue that will be addressed if it's not rectified, and it's not a threat, it's my Constitutional Right to seek Justice!

Please attend to this today February 25, 2022 by 5pm.

Regards,

Rochelle Pouget
